Report to accompany the revised Estimate for sinking a Well at Hunasekatte of the Davanagere Taluk.

The original Estimate provided only for the excavation of a Well 48 feet in depth with a diameter of 15 feet for the 1st 12 feet and of 9 feet below this. But the soil being found soft it is proposed to have the same diameter of 15 feet throughout and also to revet the Well to its entire depth. Moreover, in order to tap a good spring, the well has to be deepened 6 feet more. One provision has been made in the revised Estimate for all these additional items of work.
